A Father's Advice: Hamlet vs. "If"

In a proper literary essay, evaluate the advice given to Laertes by Polonius in Act 1 Scene 3 and that of the speaker in Rudyard Kipling's "If". Discuss the purpose behind each speaker's advice (does he want to save face or better his son's life?) and whether or not it is good advice.

- Quotes – introduce, integrate, explain
- cite act, scene, line
- don't just drop quotes in, put them in context and introduce them
- 300-500 words
- must discuss both passages
- underline Hamlet; double quotations for "If"
- delayed thesis
- No 'I' or 'You' statements – we, us, our, the reader, one

A Father's Advice: Hamlet vs. "If"

In a proper literary essay, evaluate the advice given to Laertes by Polonius in Act 1 Scene 3 and that of the speaker in Rudyard Kipling's "If". Discuss the purpose behind each speaker's advice (does he want to save face or better his son's life?) and whether or not it is good advice.

- Quotes – introduce, integrate, explain
- cite act, scene, line
- don't just drop quotes in, put them in context and introduce them
- 300-500 words
- must discuss both passages
- underline Hamlet; double quotations for "If"
- delayed thesis
- No 'I' or 'You' statements – we, us, our, the reader, one